- 2. Citations and explanations (Rule 70.7)
 - 1. In the present report, reference is made to the following documents:

D1: US 4 749 397 A;

D2: US-A-5 942 338.

2. Document D1 describes a glass substrate provided with a multi-layer coating that includes a metal layer optionally made of zirconium, a silver layer, another metal layer also optionally made of zirconium and, finally, an anti-reflective oxide layer (cf. column 2, lines 40-53) optionally made of zinc oxide (cf. column 5, lines 8-12). Example 9 (cf. table 1) describes an SnO2/Zr/Ag/Zr/SnO2 stack. The layers are deposited by means of cathode sputtering (cf. examples 1-11, column 8, lines 1-47).

D2 describes a similar coating with a stannate zinc/ZnO/Ag/Ti/ZnO/TiO stack (cf. example 1, sample 6). It is indicated that the titanium metal layer is optionally replaced with a zirconium layer (column 17, lines 15-19).

2.1 INDEPENDENT CLAIM 1

It follows that the subject matter of this claim is not novel because D1 describes a SnO2/Zr/Ag/Zr/SnO2 stack and the option of replacing SnO2 with ZnO. The subject matter therefore corresponds to a selection from the same list (the PCT Guidelines, C-IV, 7.7 (i)) and such a selection cannot impart novelty to claim 1 (PCT Article 33(2)).

2.2 INDEPENDENT CLAIM 17

The subject matter of claim 17 is not novel either for the same reasons as with claim 1 (PCT Article 33(2)).

2.3 Similarly, D2 deprives independent claims 1 and 17 of novelty.

3. DEPENDENT CLAIMS 2-16

These claims do not contain any features which, in combination with the features of any one of the claims to which they refer, fulfil the PCT requirements of novelty and inventive step (PCT Article 33(2) and 33(3)).
